7. Exercise assessment indicators of stock options

- (1) Assessment requirements for the Company's performance

Under this Stock Option Incentive Plan, the performance of the Company will be assessed in two fiscal years from 2023 to 2024 annually, so as to achieve the objective of performance assessment as one of the preconditions for the incentive object to exercise in the phase wholly or partially. The annual objectives of performance assessment are shown in the table below:

Exercise period	Year of assessment	Conditions of company-level performance assessment
First exercise period	2023	Return on net assets in 2023 shall not be less than 22%.
Second exercise period	2024	Return on net assets in 2024 shall not be less than 22%.

Notes: The above "return on net assets" is the weighted average return on net assets, and the net profit is calculated based on the net profit attributable to shareholders of listed company and excluding the share payment expenses.

If any of the above conditions of the Company's performances are not met, the Company will cancel the stock options that incentive objects can exercise during the current year in accordance with the provisions of this Plan.

(2) Assessment requirements for performance at the business unit level

Under this Incentive Plan, the Company is required to assess the performance of the business unit where the incentive object serves. It is one of the preconditions that the incentive object can exercise the option in the period wholly or partially if the relevant performance of the foregoing business unit reaches the basic goals or above; and if the relevant performance of the business unit fails to reach the basic goal, the Company will cancel the stock option for the incentive goal in the current period in accordance with the provisions of the Plan.

(3) Assessment requirements for individual performance

Under this Incentive Plan, the Company is required to conduct individual performance assessment on each incentive object on a yearly basis. It is one of the preconditions for incentive objects to fully or partially exercise in the current period if their individual performances in the evaluation year is qualified or above. If the individual performance assessment of the incentive object in the assessment year fails to achieve qualified, the Company will cancel the stock option granted in the current period in accordance with the provisions of the Plan.

In case that the three preconditions of (1) achieving company performance; (2) achieving basic goals and above in relevant performance of the business unit; and (3) achieving qualified and above in individual performance assessment for the incentive object in the assessment year are met at the same time, the incentive object can determine the specific proportion of stock option that can be exercised in the current period in accordance with the achievement of the performance of the business unit; and if any of the above preconditions are not met, the Company will cancel the stock option granted in the current period in accordance with the provisions of the Plan.

IV. Impact on the Company Financial Conditions

In accordance with the Accounting Standards for Business Enterprises No.11 - Share-based Payment and Accounting Standard for Business Enterprises No.22 - Recognition and Measurement of Financial Instruments, the Company will revise the number of stock options expected to be exercisable at each balance sheet date of the waiting period based on subsequent information such as changes in the number of newly acquired exercisable options, achievement of performance indicators, etc., and according to the fair value of the stock options on the grant date, the services obtained in the current period shall be included in relevant cost or expense and the capital reserve.

1. Fair value and determination method of stock options

According to the relevant provisions on the determination of fair value in the Accounting Standards for Business Enterprises No.22 - Recognition and Measurement of Financial Instruments, the Company chooses the Black-Scholes model to calculate the fair value of options, and uses this model to calculate the 1,075,000 stock options granted on October 26, 2023. The specific parameters are selected as follows:

- (1) The underlying stock price is CNY 46.67 per share (the closing price of the Company on the grant date is CNY 46.67 per share);
- (2) The validity period is 24 and 36 months respectively (the period from the grant date of stock options to the date of exercise of each period);
- (3) The historical volatility is 34.42% and 34.78% respectively (the volatility of Supor in the last 24 and 36 months respectively);
- (4) The risk-free interest rate is 2.10% and 2.75% respectively (the benchmark interest rates of 2-year and 3-year deposits of financial institutions formulated by the People's Bank of China are adopted respectively);
- (5) The dividend rate is 5.74% (the dividend rate of the Company in last 12 months before the disclosure of this Incentive Plan).

2. Estimated impact of the implementation of stock options on operating performance of each period

The Company uses the Black-Scholes model to calculate the fair value of options, and finally confirms the share-based payment costs of this Incentive Plan, which will be confirmed by stages during the implementation of this Incentive Plan. The incentive cost generated by this Incentive Plan will be included in the recurrent profit and loss.

Since the Grant Date is October 26, 2023, the impact of stock options granted by this Incentive Plan on the accounting costs of each period is shown in the following table:

Total amortized costs (CNY10,000)	2023	2024	2025
1229.80	338.89	785.45	105.46

Note 1: The final accounting cost shall not be represented by results above. The actual accounting cost is not only related to the actual grant date, exercise price and grant quantity, but also related to the quantity of actual valid and invalid stocks.

Note 2: Please noted the dilution influence caused by the share-based payment.

Note 3: The final result of the above-mentioned impact on the Company's operating results will be subject to the audit report issued by the accounting firm.

The performance of relevant accounting periods is influenced by the share-based payment costs generated by the incentive plan, but the degree of such influence is controllable. In addition, the implementation of this Incentive Plan will effectively unlock the passion of the core team, upgrade operating efficiency and reduce operating costs. Therefore, although certain costs has been generated in implementation of this Incentive Plan, it has effectively promoted the continuing operation capacity of the Company.
